7. conducting analytical and statistical activities	art. 6 section 1 (f) GDPR, i.e., indispensability to achieve the objectives resulting from the legitimate interests of the Company, which are: analysis of Customers, their needs, expectations, activity in relation to the Company

8. other processing purposes, if you have consented to them (e.g., filling out questionnaires used by the Company) art. 6 section 1 (a) of the GDPR, i.e., Your consent to the processing of data granted for the purpose resulting from its content

5. Data Recipients

The recipients of your personal data are our service providers, i.e., entities providing specific services for the Company, when their performance requires data processing (e.g., providers of IT, legal and auditing, accounting, banking, and courier tools and services), and also - as defined by law - authorized public administration bodies (e.g., the tax office, the police, courts).

6. Data transfer to a third country

Your personal data, to the necessary extent, may be transferred outside the European Economic Area in the event that the Company uses the services (e.g., IT solutions) of entities processing personal data in third countries. If these are not countries for which the European Commission has found an adequate level of data protection, the transfer will be carried out with adequate safeguards, in particular through the so-called standard contractual clauses issued by the European Commission. For detailed information about these safeguards (including a copy of them or where they are made available), please contact the Company using the contact details indicated in point 1 above.

7. Data storage period

Your personal data will be kept by the Company for the period necessary to achieve the processing purposes indicated in Point 4 above. In particular, personal data will be stored for the duration of the Agreement, and then for the period and to the extent required by law (e.g., with regard to the storage of documentation for tax purposes - for 5 years from the end of the calendar year in which the deadline for payment of the tax by the Company expired) or until the claims are time-barred (in principle, for a period not longer than 3 years from the date of expiry or termination of the Agreement). In the event of processing based on our legitimate interest or your consent, the Company will stop continuing it in the event of your effective objection or withdrawal of consent.

8. The data subject's rights

In connection with the processing of your personal data by the Company, you can exercise the following rights: (a) access to the data, (b) rectification (correction) of the data, (c) deletion of the data in the cases indicated in the GDPR, (d) data processing restrictions, (e) object to the processing of the data, (f) data portability, (g) withdraw consent to data processing (with the reservation that the withdrawal of the consent does not affect the lawfulness of the processing which was conducted on the basis of consent before its withdrawal), (h) lodging a complaint to the supervisory authority (authority competent for Poland - President of the Office for Personal Data Protection, Stawki 2, 00-193 Warsaw) - if it is considered that the processing of your personal data by the Company violates the provisions of the GDPR.

9. Additional information

Providing your personal data is voluntary, but it may be necessary for the conclusion and performance of the Agreement. In all matters related to the processing of your personal data by the Company, including to exercise the rights referred to in Point 8 above, please contact the Company through the contact details indicated in Point 1 above.
